

10 Reasons To Graduate College Debt-Free

- If you can't effectively handle your own money issues, how can you expect a company to hire you into a position of responsibility?
- Your chances of becoming a millionaire increase 1000 fold
- You won't be paying off student loans when Brittany Spears has grandkids
- You won't have a long-term financial hole to dig yourself out of
- You won't have to worry how you are going to live from one paycheck to another
- You won't have to sell all of your most prized possessions on eBay
- You will have money in the bank and be in demand socially
- Your financial health is more important than the stress and depression of "Debt Suffocation"
- You don't want to be a burden on your parents and are willing to honor them by being self-reliant
- By being debt-free in college shows you have a grip on reality, are in the top 33% of all students attending college, and consequently smarter than the other 67% who have taken on student loan debt

"Debt-Free Degree or a Debtor's Burden?"

by Charles R. Green M.S.Ed.